WANT PEACE WITH ALLIES BUT WILL FIGHT

BY EDWARD BING
Budapest, March 26—(9 p. m.)—
"We are ready to continue peaceful and friendly relations with the allies
if possible, but we will fight and defend our just interests," Bela Hungar, foreign minister of the Hungarian soviet government declared in a statement to foreign correspondents today.

Count Euloyi, former premier who ruled the country over to the communist, reiterated in an interview
his statement that the extent's imper-
alism was responsible for the change of government in Hungary.

"I will continue to work for the sacred cause of saving my country,
with less responsibility but with more energy," he said. The Austrian cabinet decided yesterday to recognize the Hungarian soviet government, according to an official dispatch received from Vienna today.

M. Bolgart and F. E. Neyos have been accredited as representatives of the new Hungarian government in Vienna. The latter formerly was a lecturer on sociology in Clarke University, Worcester, Mass.

Budapest continued peaceful tonight. Even street traffic was undisturbed. Reports from the provinces indicate that Communism was organized quietly throughout Hungarian territory unoccupied by the allies under the direction of local soviet.

Some hotels here hauled down the British and American flags when the revolution was first declared but the soviet government ordered that they be replaced immediately.

Colonel Vix, head of the allied Mission in Budapest and his staff have been courteously treated by the government, which guaranteed the safety of their lives and property, as well as those of all neutral and allied citizens. The soviet government continues to issue a veritable torrent of orders. Every citizen has the right to refuse permission for any military or civil official to enter his house.

Every person is likewise entitled to dispose of his bank account by checks, not to exceed $400 a month. All automobiles have been requisitioned by the government.

Neutrals will continue to receive the same food rations as formerly. Other food distribution measures remain valid.

TWELVE THOUSAND WORKERS ON STRIKE

Passaic, N. J., March 28—Passaic textile mills are closed today on account of the new strike of 12,000 workers. The managers of the mills announced that all the strikers were discharged and that the plants would re-open April 1 with entirely new crews.

DON'T LIKE HIS NAME

St. Louis, March 28.—Bill Kaiser is veteran. Bill convinced the court that Travis sounded better as a moniker

for a wounded kaiser fighter.

LEADING BOOM FOR PERSHING IN 1920

Frank Hitchcock of New York,
former postmaster general, is at the head of a group of organization politicians which is starting a movement to make General Pershing the Republican presidential candidate in 1920. Hitchcock is now in France and has been a guest of General Pershing for several days, according to reports received at the capital.

MYSTERY OF A WRECKED AIRPLANE IS NOW EXPLAINED

A few Xenians will remember an airplane which fell south of this city
last fall under mysterious circumstances and the immediate hushing
up of the matter on the arrival of military authorities from Wibur Wright field.

The matter is now being brought more clearly to mind by the announcement of Secretary of War Baker, that a plane without passengers, and automatically controlled, had flown a distance of more than a hundred miles and returned to the post
from which it had been dispatched.
The announcement reveals at least one of the secret plans and devices secured by the United States for agents of destruction abroad had the war continued a few months longer.

The test of the automatically controlled machine was made at Fort Worth, Texas, but only a bare announcement of the accomplishments of the invention was made at the time. Now it is permitted to be announced the device, which Secretary Baker describes as a marvelous invention for war purposes, was part of a proposed campaign for the destruction of German cities behind the Hindenburg line if it had been found impossible to break through the defense.
As planned, these aircraft were to be loaded with tons of high explosives and the new deadly gas which was ready for use when the armistice was signed. Through the use of the controlling mechanics the planes could have been launched from their bases and made to alight at any desired points within their radius of action which was very wide.

Upon arriving over the city marked for attack, the burden of explosives and gas would have been automatically released and the plane, describing a circle would begin its return journey. Many of the experiments in connection with the invention were carried on at Wright Field and it was one of the planes being tested that fell near this city. The local police were notified at the time and they notified the authorities at Wright
field who came to get the machine.
At the time the officers notified local authorities to keep the matter quiet
as it was a matter of military secrecy.

The experimental machine used is said to be certain to hit a mark the size of the average town four times
out of five at a distance of 100 miles.
No details were permitted to reach the public of the size or form of the machine, but it is expected that this secret eventually will be released.
Aviation engineers said that it would have been feasible to destroy Berlin or any of the other large German cities through using the invention, which, they assert deserves the praise given it by Secretary Baker.

HE TALKS ONLY ENGLISH AND HIS BRIDE TALKS FRENCH

To Private John E. Peterman belongs the distinction of being the first Dayton soldier to return from France with a bride. Private Peterman, who is a member of the 10th motor transportation corps, arrived in port at New York accompanied by his bride
from the Argentina, which sailed from Marseilles, March 14th. The ship had aboard 1,165 officers and men.
Peterman did not have much time to talk and his bride speaks only French.
He, on the other hand, does not speak
so much as a word of French.
"How the deuce did you ever make love to her, inasmuch as you could not speak French and she could not speak English?" Peterman was asked.

"Oh, that was as easy as falling off a log," he responded. As if to prove his statement he smiled affectionately
at his bride, who smiled back at him.
Then he slipped his arm about her waist and she did the same to him.
In that position they walked along the pier to greet friends, unconsciously teaching the lesson of international love-making.

Mrs. Peterman is the daughter of a well to do merchant at Arles, France.
It was in that place that the newlyweds first met on February 4. One month later they were married and on their way to the states.
Peterman will be sent to one of the camps, probably Mills, at Mineola, for a few days. Immediately after his discharge he and his bride will return to Dayton where he is assured a hearty welcome awaits him. Mrs.
Peterman is a good looking brunette of most attractive appearance, and says she is determined to learn the English language as quickly as possible. She asserts that she just knows she is going to like Dayton.

O'LEARY TO QUIT PROPAGANDA WORK

New York, March 28.—Jeremiah
O'Leary said today he was no longer an Irish propagandist. He will practice law. O'Leary is free on $10,000 bail.
One count of the indictment in which he was accused of disloyalty,
is still hanging over him.

SCENES FROM REVOLUTION SWEEP CAPITAL OF GERMANY

Republican guard, above, at left, and scene at polls during national election, above at right, and crowd watching Liebknecht funeral procession.

Photographs constantly arriving from Berlin show the condition of unrest and the high spots in the history-making period of the country. One of the recent photos shows the Republican guard—all youngsters hardly over sixteen years of age—in a group behind a heavy gun at the Schloss Platz.

The sign reads, "Halt! Who goes further will be shot." The picture at the polls is an historic one, because it shows German citizens voting for democracy and against the rule of Kaisers in the future.

The death of Liebknecht, socialist leader, was of world-wide interest.
An enormous crowd turned out to view the funeral procession—some as a tribute to Liebknecht and others in anticipation of an outbreak after the ceremony.

PUBLIC IS CALLED UPON TO JOIN IN CAMPAIGN OF CITY IMPROVEMENT

Previous to the great war this country did not know what it was to "get together." The "outs" were always ready to oppose the "ins," and there existed a permanent condition of factions. During the war, though, we saw the necessity of getting together and without allowing ourselves to think of all the little things—the dirty deeds, as we regard them—that make us sore, we all lined up on one side for one time in our lives, and look what we did—we licked the dirtiest pest that the world has ever known. Now, after seeing what concerted action and co-operation means toward accomplishing such wonderful results, let us not get back into the old rut and resume the old plan of opposing everything suggested by an administration, or any other form of leadership. Not to think that whenever a move is suggested for the better welfare of a community that the promoters are trying to "run somebody," or that they are about to pull off a "crooked deal." We must have enough faith in humanity and enough interest in fellow men that we are willing to comply to proper leadership, and to be always ready to regard things more from a community standpoint, so that "what concerns
one is of concern to all and that all must be concerned in the welfare of each."

Since by getting together and by each one taking upon himself the responsibility of assuming a certain amount of the burden we have whiped
out the worst pest—the German idea—
let us now by the same method
clean up our own pests, the insects.
The worst insects being the fly, the mosquito, cockroach, bedbug and lice.
This city, like many others, is full of them, and while some people are able to get in behind screens and otherwise fortify themselves, we must realize that there are those who cannot.
This leads up to the importance of a general clean-up along sanitary lines and just now, Mr. Hurley, who is employed by the city to make a sanitary survey, is inspecting all places that are the hatching grounds for harmful insects and disease germs. This is being done for only one reason—the protection of the community. People are regarding the work properly and most everybody has already made arrangements to take care of this phase of the cleanup.

There is another kind of clean-up.
A move that aids greatly in the appearance of a district, and this is the result of a paint-up or brighten-up campaign. After all the filth and debris has been removed, let's paint
and brighten up everything in sight.
The general clean-up also aids in fire prevention. In many cases, to comply with the requirements of a fire prevention campaign, it is necessary to construct rather than to destroy property, for after all old sheds, barns and other disreputable

looking and dangerous things are done away with other buildings are needed in their place.

And finally, when we have rid ourselves of the insects and vermin, by removing filth; and we have seen how much improved our premises then look, we are inspired to paint-up.
This "shows up" the remaining shacks and hovels in town, and if we have pride, or if it be interest in fellow-man, we will want to provide some means of destroying such shacks.
This requires first of all, proper housing quarters for the people who are compelled to live in such dirty, disgraceful hog pens as are to be found here.

There should be a "building boom"
in every city where such conditions exist, for, without question, the tenants would be available.
A building boom would go a long way in solving our reconstruction problems. Things that would stand in the way of such a boom ought to be brushed aside. The people here need the homes; labor needs the employment, and we want to get rid of the human hog pens.

Next in order is better streets, by laying pavement, then to plant plenty of trees, shrubs and gardens and in six months this will be a strange looking place.

This can all be accomplished if each person will take on that old war
spirit, where each person does his bit,
and is always ready to obey an order.

The soldiers realize how important this is, and we know the soldier is right.

PERSHING REPORTS 5,500 MEN MISSING

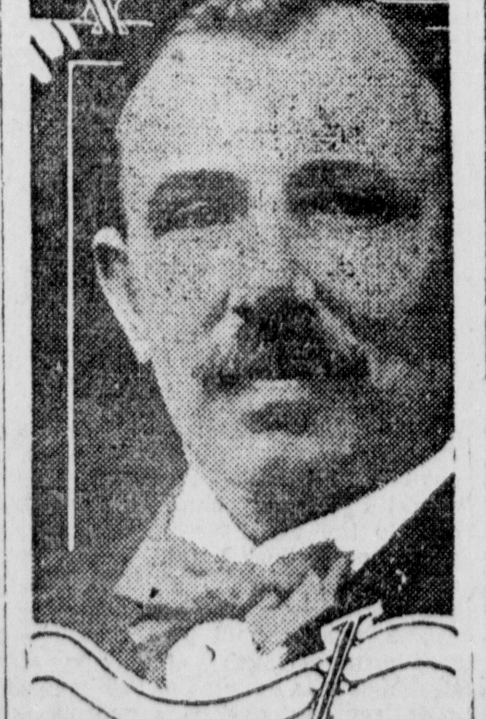

Washington, March 28.—General
Pershing today reported to the war department that there are still 5,500
officers and men of the expeditionary force listed as missing. This compares with the British official figures of 161,800 missing and the French of 290,000.

All of the 5,500 names have been reported as "missing" in casualty lists already published, the report said. Reinterments of bodies from isolated graves in the central European cemeteries is furnishing additional identification in a number of cases, and for this reason the records of the grave registration service are being carefully studied.

Re-examination of grave registration reports and also of hospital reports, referred to by General Pershing,
was said by officials at the war department to explain the "killed in action" and "wounded in action" casualties still appearing in the daily casualty lists sent out by the department.

The British war office, General
Pershing's report said, had adopted the policy of considering 26 weeks in the case of an officer and 30 weeks for an enlisted man as the length of time after the man had been recorded as missing before death is presumed.
In the French army, he said, no definite period had been fixed.

LENINE URGES SOVIET GOVERNMENT OF HUNGARY TO SEND ARMY TO VIENNA

Copenhagen, March 28—War Minister Trot-sky has announced in a wireless statement that the soviet revolution in Galicia is gaining headway, a Vienna dispatch reported today.

The uprising started in Drohobycz (forty miles southwest of Lemberg) the statement said
and is spreading rapidly to the surrounding districts. Polish troops in Lemberg are alleged to have joined the revolution and declared a general strike.

Berlin, March 28—Russian Bolshevik forces
entering eastern Galicia are advancing so rapidly that Austria is threatened, according to advices received here today. The important oil region of Galicia is said to have been completely occupied.

BY FRANK J. TAYLOR.

Berlin, March 28.—Premier Lenin has wirelessed the Hungarian soviet government urging that it send a bolshevik army against Vienna, according to a dispatch received from Budapest today. He is said to have promised to finance a Hungarian expedition against Austria to the extent of $20,000,000.

Discovering that spartacists planned to arm several thousand Russians in Rethleben prison today, Americans rushed the prisoners aboard trains
last night and are scattering them in other prison camps throughout Germany, in charge of Americans. This action is believed to have nipped a bolshevik plot to follow Hungary in declaring a soviet republic.

Spartacists in Spandau (nine miles west of Berlin) who had been threatening to revolt, took no action following the removal of the Russians.
(The dispatch does not indicate what Americans participated in averting the spartacan plot.)

Radicals in other parts of Germany have begun to take matters into their own hands. In Wurtemberg they have declared a general strike to force the government to accept socialization of industries. Leipzig is said to be under the dictatorship of five communist. The Bavarian government has ordered factories in that state to begin production on a communist basis. Soviets in Saxony have ordered the factories there to begin communizing the same as in Bavaria.

YOU WILL WAKE UP SUNDAY MORNING AM HOUR OF BEAUTY SLEEP

Those who love to bask in the arms of Morpheus are hereby given warning to retire an hour earlier Saturday night.

No midnight parties this Saturday evening, for if you don't "hit the hay"
at an early hour, you are going to wake up Sunday morning minus your usual night's rest. For Saturday is the night that all clocks will be turned forward one hour and somewhere between the time you say "Good-night"
and the time you say "good-morning"
you are going to lose an hour's sleep.

Owing to the failure of Congress to act on the agriculture bill containing the measure, the law of one year is still in effect. In order to avoid confusion it is suggested that every one move their clocks and watches ahead
one hour before retiring. On the steam and electric roads there will be no change in the time tables. Saturday trains will simply be held at originating points one hour and will be one hour late over their entire route Sunday.

The daylight saving plan was very popular last year and will again be greeted with as much enthusiasm this year. There is a general movement of co-operation with the movement all over the country.

BLOODHOUNDS FAIL TO FOLLOW TRAIL OF EXPRESS BANDITS

Memphis, March 28.—Blood hounds failed to pick up the trail of two masked bandits who late last night held up the Frisco Day Express from St. Louis and escaped with $6000.

The robbery occurred almost on the outskirts of this city and was carried out in true Jesse James fashion.

As he blew the whistle for Bridge
Junction, Ark., just across the river
from Memphis, Engineer C. McCarth saw two masked men with revolvers
climb over the back of the tender.
The bandits dropped the engine crew and ran the express car ahead and robbed it.

GROVER BRICKLE SELLS SEVERAL FAST ONES

Grover Brickle, local horseman, of east of Xenia, has made several sales of his fast horses recently, which are of interest to local lovers of the racing game.

Mr. Brickle has sold "Little Frank B," a well known stepper, which he has raced on the local track, to Jesse Gisher, of East Liverpool, Ohio. The horse is a bay gelding by "Little Frank," and was sold for $1,000.

"Babe Jola," another well known stepper, has been sold by Mr. Brickle to E. A. Beach of Dows, Iowa, the consideration being $1,000. "Babe Jola" is by the famous "Binjolla."

Mr. Brickle has also sold to W. B.
Ennis of British Columbia, "Ax-worthy," the consideration being $600.

The colt has much promise and will be given a trial this coming season.

CLEVELAND SUFFERS A $100,000 FIRE

Cleveland, March 28.—Fire starting in the five-story Seigler building, early today completely destroyed the building and communicated to three houses close by.

The entire down town section was showered with burning fire brands, carried on a 60 mile wind.

A number of small fires were started.

Total damage is estimated at $100,- 000.

SEVENTY PERSONS KILLED

Venice, March 28.—Seventy persons were killed and many injured when an oil tanker exploded in the harbor here
this morning.

LIEUT. SHADRACH HOME FOR FIFTEEN DAY FURLOUGH

Lieutenant William Shadrach, Aviation Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shadrach of this city, arrived home Friday morning from New York, where he has been located since his return from France. He will enjoy a fifteen day furlough here.

Lieutenant Shadrach returned home Friday after having seen seventeen months overseas service. After completing his ground school training here, Lieutenant Shadrach received all his practical flying in France, where he received his commission as First Lieutenant, and where he has been located at different flying fields during the almost year and a half he spent in that country.

Lieutenant Shadrach returned to this country March 8th, and has since been located in New York, where as Adjutant of his Aero Squadron, the 19th, he was kept busy making out the final papers of men discharged there. He expects to get his honorable discharge shortly after his return to duty in New York following the furlough which he is spending here.

PUBLIC DEMANDING VOTE ON QUESTION BUYING WATER WORKS

No definite action was taken by the City Commission at its regular session Thursday evening regarding the report of Phillip Burgess, consulting engineer, retained by the city to investigate the proposed purchase of the properties of the Xenia Water Company.

The matter was discussed at great length by the members without the body coming to any definite conclusion. There is a much interest being shown by the citizens in regard to the water situation and it is thought likely that at an early meeting of the Commission an election for the purpose of deciding the question will be arranged for. The expression of citizens indicates that there is a strong demand that the question be brought to a vote at once.

CONFESSION CLEARS MAN CONVICTED OF STEALING HOGS

George Crane, white, living on the Columbus pike, was arrested Thursday afternoon on a charge of being implicated in the theft of two hogs from the farm of Walter and Harry Graham, near Wilberforce, the night of January 8.

He waived examination before Magistrate J. E. Jones, and was bound over to the grand jury. He was released from the custody of the sheriff, on bond.

Crane's arrest followed a confession made by Martin "Bud" Nooks, who is now in jail charged, with his sons Alva and John, with stealing the hogs. John who is a minor is in the Mansfield reformatory, where he was committed by the juvenile court, following his arrest for the theft of the hogs.

Alva was found guilty of the theft a few days ago by a jury in common pleas court. Attorneys H. C. Armstrong and F. L. Johnson, representing Alva Nooks, made a motion for a new trial for their client, Friday morning, and in support of the motion filed an affidavit made by "Bud" Nooks, implicating Crane, himself and his son John, and exonerating Alva from any connection with the theft of the hogs.

In his affidavit "Bud" Nooks said that he and George Crane planned to steal the hogs. The night of January 8, he said, he, Crane and John Nooks, drove to a point on the pike near the Graham farm. While Crane waited near a grove of Locust trees, he said, he and John went in and got the hogs. They then came back, met Crane, loaded the hogs, and drove away. Alva Nooks is still in jail, and the motion for a new trial will not be heard until Judge Kyle returns home from Chardon.

Here's A Gentle Laxative For Elderly People

A daily free movement of the bowels becomes a serious problem as you step from middle-life into old age, and much dependence can no longer be placed on nature herself. The bowels find artificial aid necessary.

The stronger the physis, as old people soon learn, the greater the contraction of the bowels thereafter, and so the wise purposely avoid salt waters, pills and other harsh purgatives. Many have learned to place absolute reliance on the gentle but positive action of a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

It produces an agreeable movement as nearly natural and free as high pharmaceutical skill can make it. Thousands use it regularly, in the small dose prescribed, and keep themselves in fine health and good cheer, and entirely free from constipation.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

PRICE AS ALWAYS In spite of greatly increased laboratory costs due to the War, by sacrificing profits and absorbing war taxes we have maintained the price at which this family laxative has been sold by druggists for the past 26 years. Two sizes—50c and $1.00.

Dr. Caldwell's SYRUP PEPSIN The Perfect Laxative

FREE SAMPLES—If you have never used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin send for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 468 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. If there are babies at home, ask for a copy of Dr. Caldwell's book, "The Care of Baby."

CAPTAIN W. T. DARNELL TALKS IN WILMINGTON

Captain W. T. Darnell gave a very interesting talk at the assembly at the Midland school, Wednesday morning, where he was formerly a student.

He minutely described his stay in the service from the time of his enlistment in the Medical Corps, until the signing of the armistice.

With the map of France which he had, the pupils could follow accurately his movements through France. The pupils and teachers of the Midland school are gaining much from such talks, they declare.

Mrs. Ballard of the school board, was present, and kindly consented to speak next Wednesday morning, concerning her three years' teaching experience in the Philippines.—Wilmington News.

A Woman's Story With Great Meaning

Subject of Childbirth Discussed by Women of Experience.

Women everywhere tell their friends how, through the use of Mother's Friend, the wonderful penetrating external application, they avoided suffering and distress before the advent of nature's most wonderful evolution.

Mother's Friend is a remedy which spreads its influence upon the cords, nerves and ligaments involved, rendering them pliant to readily yield to nature's demand for expansion. The nerves, cords, tendons and ligaments expand without that peculiar wrenching strain, and nervousness, nausea and unrestful sensations are naturally avoided when the nerves and muscles are relaxed and thus are not tort and drawn.

By regular use, the lower abdominal region expands with ease when baby is born, the hours are less at the crisis, and pain and danger is naturally less.

You can obtain Mother's Friend from any drug store. It has been used by women for over half a century, and is just as standard as anything you can think of.

Write the Bradfield Regulator Company, Dept. H, Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their Motherhood Book, and get a bottle of Mother's Friend today, and thus fortify yourself against pain and discomfort.

WE ARE THANKFUL SAYS MRS. E. FISHER OF N. HAMPTON

SHE AND HUSBAND FORMS A ROYAL FRIEND IN NERV-WORTH.

North Hampton folks have taken kindly to this famous family tonic and Mrs. Enos Fisher is enthusiastic as the following statement, made to Springfield's Nerv-Worth druggist amply proves:

Troupe Drug Co.—I was troubled with nervousness. Could not sleep at night. My husband was also troubled with rheumatism and lumbago. After reading the advertisement of Nerv-Worth in the daily papers, we decided to try it and after taking our second bottle we both feel well again. Can sleep at night now. My nerves are in good shape. My husband's rheumatism is gone and we are thankful for taking Nerv-Worth and gladly recommend it.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

ELBERT BABB SENDS FRENCH PAPER TO FRIEND IN XENIA

Elbert L. Babb, who is at St. Eulalie, Gironde, France, with the A. E. F., recently visited the plant of the "La Gironde," in Bordeaux, which is one of the most progressive papers published in France, and he sent a copy of the Sunday edition to a friend in this city.

The "Gironde" is a very progressive paper as it puts out a paper in English, also, but it compares poorly with the metropolitan journals of the United States.

The Sunday edition was printed on one sheet of paper, seven columns wide and considerably longer than those published in this country. The front page was devoted entirely to the big news of the day, while half of the back page was advertisements and the other half devoted to the weather report, the boat schedules and other items of lesser importance. The paper sells for ten centimes.

In speaking of the papers, Mr. Babb said in his letter: "Speaking of newspapers one day across the Meuse, near a little town called Samogneux, and just behind the battery of the 324th Field Artillery, where my fleet had delivered a load of 155 O. A's, I had gotten all of the Quads turned around and started back to the ammunition dump, when a K. C. 'news-boy' stopped the truck and handed me a copy of the New York Herald (European edition). It was still light enough to read, but there was too much fireworks. One Fritz 'barracks bag' dropped just about 50 yards from us and I told Mr. K. C. to jump on and 'get out of here,' but he said he guessed he'd stay until he had given the rest of them away. You can't imagine how we used to fight for late papers up at the front. We used to send a man about six or eight miles every day to get as many late papers as he could and some times he'd bring back one or two of the same day's issue and some times none at all."

His address is, Sergeant E. L. Babb, B Co., 308 Am. Tr., A. E. F., via N. Y.

Sea level. Sea level in the scientific sense means theoretical mean or average from which elevations or depressions on the earth are calculated. The coast and geodetic survey, which is government authority on such subjects, says: "Mean sea level may be defined as the surface which would be assumed by the water of the oceans at rest if there were no action by the wind or by the tides due to the attraction of the moon and sun. The sea level surface is at all points at right angles to a free-swinging plummet."

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

GREENE CO. MAN'S FATHER CELEBRATES HUNDREDTH BIRTHDAY

George W. Carle, father of William H. Carle, well known Greene county farmer, celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of his birth, at his home in Washington C. H., Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. William H. Carle and their daughter, Mrs. Clarence Mussetter, attended the celebration.

The Washington Herald of Wednesday published the following story of the venerable man:

Mr. George W. Carle, residing on West Court street, this city, Tuesday celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of his birth, and quite a number of friends from this and adjoining cities assembled to assist in paying due homage to the only centenarian in Fayette county.

The friends found the venerable citizen in the very best of health, thoroughly able to enjoy the event and assist the others in making it a memorable day for all concerned.

Mr. Carle has resided quietly in this city for many years, and it was not generally known that the city contained a man who was so near the century mark until it became noised about on his one hundredth anniversary.

Mr. Carle was born at Maysville, Kentucky, March 25, 1819. His father, Charles Carle, brought his family to this part of Ohio when the son, George, was one year old.

The aged man states that his father helped build the first house in Washington, on the site of the present court house, and that there was but one "road" to the town at that time—a hog path through the forest to Hillsboro.

He served 3 years during the Civil War and has in his possession three honorable discharges from the United States Army. He served his first enlistment under Captain Ramsey in Company B, 33rd Ohio. He was discharged on account of defective sight, after serving 11 months and 15 days.

Mr. Carle then succeeded in enlisting again, this time in the 7th Ohio Cavalry, but was again discharged at the end of 3 months because of an injured shoulder. After recovery, Mr. Carle enlisted for the third time, choosing the heavy artillery and served to the end of the war, taking part in the battles of Stone River and Pittsburg Landing.

Mr. Carle is wonderfully well preserved in body and mind and exhibits a pleasing personality. He attributes his splendid physical condition to the out door life he has led.

The centenarian states that he has cleared 173 acres of land and that he spent several years at Ripley, Ohio, in the construction of river boats.

"Honesty toward everyone and an upright life has been my motto during my entire career," asserts Mr. Carle.

KRYPTOK GLASSES THE INVISIBLE BIFOCALS

Kryptoks (pronounced Crip-tocks), without that conspicuous age-revealing "crack" or seam, give the convenience of NEAR and FAR vision in one pair of glasses. There is not the slightest trace of a seam or hump. The two powers (the lower for close work, and the upper for distance) are joined together in one solid, smooth, crystal-clear piece. Notwithstanding the fact that Kryptoks look exactly like single-vision glasses, they enable you to see both near and far with equally keen vision. That's why they are known everywhere as the "invisible bifocals."

Call and let us give you further information concerning these universally approved bifocals.

"ONLY A NIGGER SCHOOL HOUSE."

Some years ago the writer happened to be at Maryville, Tenn., a beautiful little town about twenty miles from Knoxville. An academy there gives it considerable reputation as an educational place, for whites of course. Taking a walk to see the town, we came across the most dilapidated old frame building we had ever seen, with practically every window pane broken out. In surprise, we asked a native of the place the explanation. "Oh," said he, "that's only a nigger school house." And with the same kind of lip contempt as he would have spoken of a cow stable.

And many winters spent in the South have shown us that the white view there of the colored man is that he is not a human being, but only an animal, with whose rights he has no concern. Except when he wants to vote him. Through the war they lost ownership of this animal, and now wreak their vengeance on him for it. Disfranchisement and "Jim-Crowism" show their bitter contempt for him. If equal rights are shown him in Heaven, doubtless some of them will beg to be sent to the other place.

Judge John S. Candler, speaking in the last General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South which convened in Atlanta, Ga., gave utterance to the following remarks explaining the fairness and equality of the distribution of the public-school funds between the races:

"In my State Negroes pay practically but two or three per cent of all the taxes, but we give them dollar for dollar in the public schools, the same amount per capita as we give our white children, and we ought to do it. They need the education. Public education is intended for the ignorant, and for the ones who need it, and I would not have our Southern States do differently. But when people get up here and say that we have not treated them fairly, that we have not treated them as we have our own children, it is not true. They have their rights and their privileges in our public schools, as they ought to have, and we have tried to help them in their schools all we can; and as they grow able we are going to help them more."

The above is misinformation. Yes, it is more than misinformation. It is not borne out by the facts and, therefore, is untrue. Judge Candler had but to consult statistics, with which he is familiar, to convince himself that his statement was calculated to mislead not only the church but the people of America, it coming from so high an authority.

The Candler's represent in the South what we call the better class of white people. By birth, education, wealth, and intelligence they represent the best Southern thought and conscience.

We can only account for Judge Candler's grave misrepresentation of the facts in the case on the ground that he had not taken the trouble to post himself—and perhaps on the other theory that the general feeling in the South that education of the negro makes him less valuable as a bearer of burdens. At all events it was a grave mistake on Judge Candler's part.

The Atlanta Independent took him sharply to task in the matter and showed from the records that he had falsified the facts most egregiously in his statement that the public school funds are distributed between the black children and the white children, dollar for dollar, as the Judge claimed.

Let us take Pike County, Georgia, as the census gives the population in 1910 and the Government's report shows in 1915:

Population, 1910..... 9,334 10,159
Children 6 to 14 of age 1,961 2,756
Teachers' salaries..... $3,845.19 $5,295

Thus it is clearly shown, that in Pike County within fifty miles of Judge Candler's home, white teachers are paid seven times as much money for teaching 1,961 children as the Negro teachers are paid for teaching 2,756.

These figures are taken from the Government's report.

Let us take Fulton County, in which Judge Candler spoke:

	White	Negro
Population, 1910.....	102,861	51,902
Children 6 to 14 years.....	16,086	8,011
Teachers' salaries.....	$385,913	$38,331
Teachers' salaries per child.....	$23.99	$4.81
Percentage illiterate.....	22	20.9

Thus, you see, for every white child the State of Georgia, in Fulton County, paid $23.99, and for every black child $4.81. The school population is only two whites to one Negro; yet each white child received five times as much money as one Negro child, and yet Judge Candler tells you in the Church of God that the Negroes receive dollar for dollar equal opportunities and advantages along with the white child in the distribution of the public-school funds.

Let us consider Burke County, in southeast Georgia:

	White	Negro
Population, 1910.....	4,805	22,462
Children 6 to 14 years.....	969	5,524
Teachers' salaries.....	$20,490	$8,819
Teachers' salaries per child.....	$21.14	$1.59
Percentage illiterate.....	4.2	38.2

Judge Candler seems not to have observed that Burke County pays two and one-half times as much for teaching 969 white children as it pays for teaching 5,524 black children. These are the facts, as ascertained from the records, which put to shame Judge Candler's false statement.

And did you notice, a day or two ago, that another Southern Legislature had made it a legal crime for a white person to teach a colored school—a heathenish law.

SON OF POSTMASTER RICE RETURNS TO U. S. A. FROM FRANCE

Ensign Robert K. Rice, U. S. N., son of Postmaster Harry E. Rice, arrived in the states a few days ago, from France, and has been assigned to duty on the Yorika, a patrol boat.

Ensign Rice made the trip to and from France on an Austrian ship, and on both voyages the vessel encountered very rough weather, requiring 14 days to make the trip across, and 24 days to return. The officers and crew had a thrilling experience on the voyage to France. The vessel was loaded with 600 horses, and during a storm it listed so badly to one side at one time, that fear was felt that it would turn over. The listing of the vessel caused the horses' tethers to break, and the animals stampeded. It was necessary to shoot about one fourth of them before the others could be corralled and quieted.

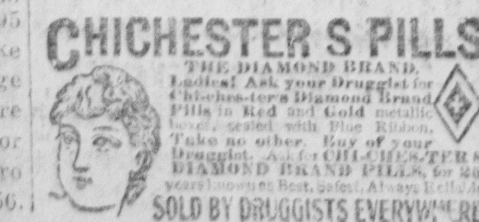

Everyday Etiquette

"What is the proper time for a bride to give her gifts to the girls who are to be her bridesmaids?" asked Grace. Frequently the bride gives a luncheon or dinner for the girls who are to be her attendants. It is at this time that she gives them the gifts she has selected for them. If no entertainment is given for them, the gifts may be sent to the young women the day before or on the morning of the wedding. The sender's visiting card being enclosed with each one," answered her aunt.

Camouflage in Reverse.

Reversal of the camouflage principle, greatly increasing the visibility of its subjects instead of concealing them by blending them with the background, is declared a possible peace development by the naval officer who developed that particular nature-faking system.

Since every positive has its negative, color applications opposite to those used for confusing the eye are being studied for a possible standardized system of making distant objects conspicuous.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

RARE SARCASM IS USED BY P. M. WHEN HE RESIGNS JOB

The following is taken from the Midland Druggist and Pharmaceutical Review:

Dr. A. M. Riggs, described as "a prominent business man and postmaster here," in a special dispatch from La Follette, Tenn., to the New York Herald, has followed the example set by Mr. McAdoo and continued by several other government officials. In brief, Dr. Riggs has given up his government work because there isn't money enough in it. Goaded into action by a letter from the post office department asking that he resign unless he could devote all of his time to the business of the office, ex-Postmaster Riggs wrote and forwarded the following firm epistle to John C. Koons, first assistant postmaster general at Washington:

"Sir: 'Your kind favor of the 6th inst., received, informing me that now the war is over and consequently less demanded of its loyal citizens, the government can now manage to pay along without my services as postmaster at La Follette, Tenn., unless I devote my entire time to the office. Therefore,

"I resign. "It pains me to do this, and I shall ever look back with regret to this rude separation from this ideal position requiring twelve hours a day service with the munificent compensation (after paying all expenses) of two dollars a day. I have neglected my personal affairs to serve the government; doing any and everything required; selling Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps galore, carrying water and sweeping the floor, as Uncle Sam has studiously avoided making any allowance for incidental expenses.

"Selling War Stamps and immediately cashing the same has been one of my pet diversions. When I realize I am no longer compelled to do all these things, and a host of others equally edifying, such as explaining why the mail carrier took the flu, and the postmaster on a certain occasion (as reported by an inspector) sent an employee to the office for his mail instead of going for it himself; and why Rockefeller & Co. were not deprived of a mail box the moment they failed to pay when due; why the flies were allowed to speak certain lobby notices required to be kept posted there—when, I say, I contemplate all these things.

"I again resign. "I am made to cogitate on the futility of so conducting the office that the patrons do not complain; of properly keeping the records and punctiliously accounting for every dollar of Uncle Sam's money, made to understand that I in the midst of the fighting, must be on the spot eight hours a day and every day, regardless, nothing else sufficing.

"I would gently inform you, my dear General Koons, that what you need is a man as postmaster here who can support a family of eight on two dollars a day. I frankly confess that I do not know how to do it. Do you? Realizing this, it is with the comforting sense of resignation that "I resign once more. "And, now, in my grand finale of resignation, I avail myself of the opportunity of congratulating the United States of America on having so efficient an assistant postmaster-general as your honored self. I am convinced that nothing escapes your vigilant eyes. I am made to shudder when I contemplate what may happen to this great country of ours when the fateful day comes when you, even you, will be summarily and unceremoniously kicked from the office (the public welfare requiring it), as you now, without feeling or justice, deprive me of this.

"Crape is on the post-office door, and the town is in mourning. God save the Republic!

"Respectfully and dejectedly yours. "A. M. RIGGS."—Literary Digest.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

BARBARA IS WORRIED OVER NEIL.

CHAPTER XLVII

At last I imagined I knew the cause for the intimacy between Neil and Blanche Orton. But how did it start in the first place? How did he come to talk of business matters to another woman, and absolutely refuse to discuss them with me?

It is a terrible feeling to ask oneself questions of this sort; to ask them over and over and yet find no answer. But one possible explanation came to me—that we were living far beyond our means. If not, why had it been necessary for anyone to help Neil, even if Scott had threatened him? If we could afford to do the things we did, live in the manner in which we did, surely Neil must be rich. Rich enough to take up even the large block of stock owned by Scott.

I wondered why Scott had threatened Neil; what made it possible for him to do so. Had I known that the stock Neil had sold him was what he, Scott, called "phony stock," and that he had insisted upon having his money at once, I might have understood many other things, at this time. But that Neil would sell stock that was worthless, knowing that it was, would have not only seemed impossible, but ridiculous to me.

You see, I knew absolutely nothing of business of any kind. Neil earned the money, gave it to me, and I spent it as I pleased. But I have since learned that one may be quite a good business man or woman and still not understand the devious ways of many promoters; especially if they are promoting schemes based so far away that purchasers of stock must take their word for their value, reinforced by an elaborately printed prospectus, instead of investigating the property for themselves.

I decided that Scott had "cold feet," as Neil had said, and wanted his money back; that he had threatened to sue Neil if he didn't return it. That he had to have some other reason to bring suit aside from the fact that he had changed his mind, never occurred to me.

I had an almost insane desire to run away; away from my thoughts and everything. It may seem strange to some woman, that I was not satisfied to let Neil run things, and not worry because I did not know the details. But there had been so many little things in my life with him to make me uneasy. Yet often I took myself to task for my anxiety. Neil was so vigorous, so alive, and strong-willed. It seemed impossible that life could play any tricks with him. Had he been weakling, it would have been impossible for me to have stood for so long the half-doubts which had been mine almost since we had been married. But he was so strong, so masterful, that one could not vision him in trouble or not dominating any situation.

Neil was the most convincing talker I ever have heard. It wasn't that he said so much, it was the way he said it.

I went into my baby—little Robert

Keep the Children Well

To keep the little ones well, sturdy and happy, free of coughs, colds, croup, little fevers and inflamed throats, use

Foley's Honey and Tar.

It is carefully made of selected remedies that loosen and break up a cough, stop croup and ease an aching inflamed throat, and it is clean of all narcotics.

The prompt use of Foley's Honey and Tar is very helpful for whooping cough, and the restless feverish state that attends children's diseases.

"M. T. Davis, Bearsville, W. Va., writes—

"One of my patrons had a small child taken with croup. They came to my store and bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and before morning the child was entirely recovered."

—but for the first time he failed to hold my thoughts from my worry. I played with him, but in a half-hearted way that he seemed to realize; for his tiny fingers pulled at me, and he whined a little—something very unusual with him. He had always been a wonderfully good baby, healthy and happy.

I laid him down, and went into the library. I wandered about the room for a few moments, then, noticing that the cellarette was slightly open, started to close it. Then I looked inside, I was shocked to see a bottle of whiskey, that Neil had opened the night before, nearly half gone! I must speak to Tonko. He should not touch the cellarette. Neil must keep it locked hereafter.

I turned the key in the lock, and put it in my pocket. When Neil came in I would tell him to find a hiding place for it—that it was a temptation to leave it in the lock.

Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia, I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my housework. My baby when seven months old weighed 19 pounds and I feel better than I have for a long time. I never had any medicine do me so much good."

—Mrs. PEARL MONYHAN, Mitchell, Ind.

Good health during maternity is a most important factor to both mother and child, and many letters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., telling of health restored during this trying period by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Public Sales

Have your sale announced FREE in this column early, so that you may claim your date and others will stand off of it. These are offered every day and are gratis with the large display advertising. We also furnish sale bills without charge. Let us tell you about it.

PUBLIC SALE advertising in the Gazette and Republican bring the crowds. In these days of automobiles the farmer has no time to stop along the road to read sale bills. He is coming to depend upon those papers to notify him of the sale dates, and articles to be offered for sale. It is the buyer from a distance who sees your ad. in this paper, who jumps into his auto and hurries to your sale, who pays what your stuff is worth. Your neighbor no longer can stand around and pick off what he needs at an absurd price, as he does when you have not properly advertised, and gotten a good crowd. Use the Gazette and Republican if you want the worth of everything you offer. Don't try to save on your advertising.

JAMESTOWN

The last number of the high school lecture course will be given at the opera house, on Tuesday evening, April first. Private Arthur K. Hermin will give an address dealing with the experiences of the boys who were overseas. Private Herman was wounded at Vimy Ridge. Tickets on sale at Harper's drug store.

The Misses Ella and Emma Taylor have been visiting in Xenia.

Mrs. L. W. Linton attended the executive meeting of the county W. C. T. U. in Xenia, on Tuesday. Mrs. Linton was one of the committee.

Mr. John David, who sold his home on Clemens Avenue to James Flax, has taken rooms in the home of Miss Margaret Gilcrest. Mr. and Mrs. David will move soon.

Mrs. Ben Earley has been visiting Miss Orva Beard, who was operated on at the McClellan hospital in Xenia.

Mrs. Carrie Gordon is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Morrow near Xenia.

As a community affair for the development and pastime for the young people of Jamestown and vicinity, a meeting was held on Tuesday evening in the lecture room of the M. E. Church, when an organization was effected to be known as the Jamestown Athletic Association, of which Miss Mabelle Walker is president, Miss Evelyn Lackey is secretary and Alfred Ferguson treasurer. The trustees will consist of one member from each church to be designated later. We hope this movement will have the hearty support of the entire community.

There seems just now to be a demand to rent dwelling houses in Jamestown with none available, as building has not been up to the standard for the past two years, on account of the high cost of material of all kinds.

Mrs. Alpheus Skyles and her daughter, Mrs. Harry Heifner, visited Ray Skyles at the Miami Valley hospital at Dayton, on Wednesday. The lad is doing very well but will not get home for a couple of months.

The War Savings contest, which was entered into by the Jamestown high school, has ended. The school divided into two groups, with Miss Marian George captain of one section and Richard Cooper captain of the other section. Young Cooper, who is a freshman, won, having sold $1,175 worth, and Miss George has to her credit $750. The losing side was to give a banquet, which took place at the K. of P. Hall Thursday evening.

The meeting of the Rural Improvement Club has been postponed, on account of the illness of the little son of Mrs. George Ensign, who was to have been the hostess. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, April 2, at Mrs. Ensign's.

Miss Esther Turnbull most delightfully entertained ten of her girl friends at a six o'clock dinner. The evening was spent in merry chatter and laughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Benegar have been visiting in Xenia this week.

Mrs. Mattie Vanniman of Columbus, has been visiting at the home of Mr. C. N. Smith.

Mrs. A. G. Carpenter was a mid week visitor in Dayton.

The Epworth League of the M. E. church has just been re-organized with the following officers: president, Miss Dorothea Adams; vice president, Miss Eloise Farquhar; third and fourth vice president, Miss Catherine Long, Secretary and treasurer, Richard Frazier.

Mrs. Charles Burr and her sister, Mrs. Lee Early, were mid week shoppers in Dayton.

Mr. Robert Harmount of Delaware, has been a guest at the home of Mr. Al Zeiner for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bradds, who are attending the Taylor College at Upland,

ONE OF COUNTRY'S MOST PROMINENT COLORED MEN DEAD

Bishop C. T. Shaffer, of Chicago, a prominent colored man and one of the best known dignitaries of the A. M. E. Church died suddenly in Lansing, Michigan, Thursday night while enroute to Chicago.

Bishop Shaffer was President of the Trustee Board and the Executive Board of Wilberforce University. He once lived in this city, about 35 years ago, when he held the pastorate of St. John's A. M. E. Church here. He was 65 years of age at the time of his death and was a Civil War veteran. Bishop Shaffer was Bishop of the Third Episcopal District of the A. M. E. Church a charge he had held for many years. He was elected bishop in 1900 at Columbus.

The Bishop was a friend of President Scarborough of Wilberforce University and the latter met the Bishop in Columbus only three or four days ago, at which time he was apparently good health. He was then on his way to Toledo. He is survived by his widow and one son.

A meeting of the faculty of Wilberforce University was held Friday morning to take action regarding Bishop Shaffer's death. The following committee was appointed to draft a memorial, Dean Gilbert Jones, Miss Hallie C. Brown, Superintendent W. A. Joiner, Dr. Henderson and Dean George F. Woodson. Some members of this committee will probably attend the funeral. It was decided to suspend studies at the university the day of the funeral, through respect to Bishop Shaffer.

BELLBROOK

James Davis of Dayton, spent Sunday with his father, Rolla Davis, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Maxwell.

Clarence Berryhill, who sold his farm recently, moved last week into the Edward Pennewitt property.

Morris Hunter will move on his father's farm soon.

The high school basketball team played at Centerville last Friday night, and the game resulted in a tie between the two schools.

Rolla Davis is still confined to his bed.

Miss Laura Surface is confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. Charles Sears has been suffering from influenza.

John Edwards of Dayton, visited relatives in the brook Sunday.

Mrs. Wolf of Dayton, who spent last week with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Davis, of Southwest of town, returned home Friday.

RHEUMATIC PAINS

Quickly Eased By Penetrating Hamlin's Wizard Oil

A safe and harmless preparation to relieve the pains of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lame Back and Lumbago is Hamlin's Wizard Oil. It penetrates quickly, drives out soreness, and restores stiff aching joints and muscles.

You will find almost daily uses for it in cases of sudden mishaps or accidents such as sprains, bruises, cuts, burns, bites and stings. Just as reliable, too, for earache, toothache, cramp and colic.

Get it from druggists for 30 cents. If not satisfied return the bottle and get your money back.

Ever constipated or have sick headache? Just try Wizard Liver Pills, pleasant little pink pills, 30 cents. Guaranteed.

How You May Reduce Your Weight

Overstoutness is a very unwelcome condition, especially in the present day, when slender figures are so popular, and every reader of this paper who has noticed a tendency to put on weight will be glad to know of a new, simple home treatment that is remarkably efficient and inexpensive.

If you happen to be one of those who are overweight, you may find it difficult to reduce by starving yourself; eat all you want, but take after each meal and at bed times five grains of Phynola which you can secure at any drug store.

Phynola is designed to increase the oxygen carrying power of the blood and dissolves fatty tissue. In many cases at the rate of a pound a day. It is pleasant to take and gives remarkable results quickly and easily. Sayre & Hemphill can supply you.

IF ONLY KNEW JUST WHAT AILS ME.

How often have you made this remark? Yet you continue to suffer, hesitating to seek aid because you consider that medical attention would be too expensive, or, perhaps, are you dissatisfied with past treatment.

Remember, all the wishing, hoping and praying never cured any real physical ailment. Then, why continue to grope in the dark, suffering pain, discomfort and dissatisfaction?

An X-ray examination will cost you but one dollar and is considered by the medical profession as one of the greatest aids to a correct diagnosis. If your case is not incurable you can be treated in one of the most completely equipped offices in the Middle West. 25 years experience.

PRETTY LUNCHEON AT WEAVER HOME

Bright spring colors made extremely attractive Mrs. C. A. Weaver's 1 o'clock luncheon Thursday, when a group of matrons from the O. S. and S. O. Home were her guests.

The small tables were dainty pictures, each centered by a candle shaded in various colors, while the crystal handles of the nut baskets were decorated with fluffy bows of tulle in green, violet, yellow, pink and blue.

Narcissus and sweet peas placed about the rooms carried out the effect. A delicious luncheon was served in four courses. There were 28 covers.

EAST END NEWS

Mr. Joseph L. Booth, who recently returned from France, is preparing to re-open his store for tailoring, pressing and dry cleaning over Charles Kelble's store on West Main street. Mr. Booth was a member of the famous Buffalo regiment that fought valiantly in France.

Mr. William Turner of Montreal, Canada, is visiting Mr. Oscar S. Harris. They have been friends from boyhood. Mr. Turner is the son of the late James Turner, the gardener, who resided at Stringtown.

Miss Helen Ferguson, one of our High School teachers, participated in the student's musical recital at Antioch College, March 25th. She was the third person on the program, and played "Temple in the Moonlight," Ferreri, and "To the Spring," by Toyussen. The program was of a very high order and Miss Ferguson's numbers ranked among the best.

Middle Run Baptist church will hold their baptizing at Jackson's Run, Sunday, immediately after the morning service. Twelve or fourteen persons are expected to be baptized.

ANTIOCH BASEBALL TEAM STARTS ITS SPRING PRACTICE

With only one man lost from last year's team, Antioch College baseball nine started practice last week with a number of candidates and bright prospects for the coming season.

Since the start of practice the team has been developing rapidly and it is hoped to pick the nine by April 1, which will just be in time for the opening game of the season with Wilberforce University, which will be staged on the 5th of April. A good schedule has been arranged this year, and the Yellow Springs lads hope to win a majority of their games.

So far twenty candidates have turned out for practice and among them are a number of veterans from last year. The lads who are showing up for practice are Harold Little, pitcher and Warren Vannorsdall shortstop, four year men; Lyman Athey left field, Charles Vannorsdall shortstop, Robert Stretcher third base, Bales first base, Elmer Barre, center field, Wallace right field and Frank Chambliss utility pitcher and outfielder, who are all second year men. Leon Loe was the only player lost from last year and he performed in the outfield. Other recruits trying out for the team are Dwight Northup, Willis Corry, Burnell Heafey, Royal Jenkins, Jesse Hamer, Leroy Loe, Leroy Brubaker and George Donley.

FRECKLES

March Worst Month for This Trouble

—How to Remove Easily.

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in March, but happily there is, also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of Othine, double strength, from your druggist and apply a little of a night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they may stay all Summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if Othine fails.

WEAKNESS RELIEVED BY "BALMWORT"

Many men and women gain no strength. The least exertion tires them. Dull aches, pains like rheumatism, depression, or "blues" come easily. Ambition and energy are always at low ebb. What is the cause? The cause may vary—but if the Kidneys and Bladder are not doing their work perfectly—you can make a bet—that's where the trouble lies. This lady suffered 12 years: Mrs. E. Klipp, 644 W. 12th St., Oak Park, Ill., writes: "Your Balmwort Kidney Tablets certainly have done wonders for me. I have been ailing for 12 years with Kidney and Bladder weakness, but feel like a NEW WOMAN NOW." All druggists sell them.

PEPTIRON IS GOOD

This Real Iron Tonic Combines Merit Economy and "Pep."

Made from a formula that uses iron in most digestible form, pepsin and gentian, great stomach tonics, aux and celery, the best vegetable remedies for the nerves, and also manganese and other valuable nutrients—there's no question of the value of Peptonin as a blood builder and strengthener.

The larger size of Peptonin contains enough for a full month's treatment, while other so-called iron preparations contain only one-half or less.

The "pep" or promptness with which Peptonin does its work is noted by everyone who takes it.

From the first dose the system responds to the treatment, and you realize you are at last using a medicine that begins right, continues and ends right. Better get a bottle of Peptonin today. Take two Peptonin after each meal—then comes good blood, good appetite, and—pep.

MUSTEROLE—QUICK RELIEF! NO BLISTER!

It Soothes and Relieves Like a Mustard Plaster Without the Burn or Sting

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and usually the pain is gone!

Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients.

They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

DISCOURAGED

You have tried everything. It's the same old story. I hear it everyday. Your courage is gone, your faith is gone. The end would be gladly welcomed, but even that won't come. What would you give to be a well man—a wayward man? What wouldn't you give? Worse cases, perhaps than yours, are yielding as if by magic to its subtle power. Why not your case? I will leave it to your intelligence and good judgment. Slaves to mock or false modesty, you deserve to suffer, 98 per cent of the supposed incurable cases could be relieved physically and mentally, if they would only confess it to a friend, family, or better, a skilled physician. Don't argue I've tried electricity with no results—you may have no idea what an up-to-date electrically equipped institution really is.

A MOTHER'S STRENGTH

Mother, whose hands rock the cradle, often needs more than ordinary food to help maintain the blood-quality and strength and to assure adequate nourishment to the child. It is as unwise for the mother, as it is dangerous to the child, to place dependence upon alcoholic stimulation, for strength is not found in alcohol.

FRED C. KELLY IS MENTIONED IN MCINTYRE'S CHATTER

O. O. McIntyre frequently mentions Fred Kelly in his daily chatter, called "New York Day by Day." His latest introduction of the local man is in the following article:

The most embarrassed man I ever saw in my life was leading a camel up Broadway the other afternoon about five o'clock. Atop the camel was a veiled young lady in a combination costume from Sixth avenue and the Far East. The camel carried signs advertising one of those wild beauty contest balls that are characterizing the final burst of speed before July first. The young man leading the camel smoked a cigarette nervously, pulled his slouch hat far down over his head, and had his coat collar well turned up. The day was brisk and he was plainly in need of an overcoat. What struck one most was the fact that the young man was altogether out of the picture. He was used to higher things than being valet to a camel. He feared he would be recognized. Just a few lines of dissipation had marked a well chiseled face. Had Broadway got him? Or was he only temporarily down on his luck? At any rate, he was willing to work, no matter how lowly the job. It was reminiscent of an evening I dropped into a cabaret with Fred C. Kelly, the Washington wit. One number showed a young man in evening clothes holding reins in one hand and a white kid whip in the other, driving two pretty little show girls around the stage while they sang. "Imagine that young man's position," said Kelly, "when he goes back home and folks say, 'Well, Charlie, what are you doing in New York?'"

"Charlie will give a nervous laugh, and say, 'O of evenings I have a whip and I drive some girls around a restaurant.'"

How to Capture Beaver.
As compared with the otter or mink, the beaver is a very slow swimmer. His front legs hang by his side, and he uses only his webbed hind feet for purposes of swimming. It is easy to capture one in a canoe if you can find him in shallow water. He is a most determined fighter, but clumsy and easy to handle. If he could get hold of you with his teeth he would almost take a leg off, so you need to watch him sharply. The way to seize him is by the tail.

DON'T KISS BLONDES THEY ARE DANGEROUS

"Don't kiss blondes; it's very menacing to the health; brunets are safer."

Thus says Dr. John W. Kenney, of Boston, try to take the joy out of life. He says it's very, very dangerous to kiss a pretty girl—if she's a blonde. Also, it's just as dangerous (he asserts) to kiss a homely blonde. And, girls, you mustn't kiss blonde men, either, for the same dangerous, too. That is, their kisses are.

Maybe Dr. Kenney knows what he's talking about. I doubt it. Chances are, he's talking through his hat.

I took the matter up with a lawyer.

"Is it less dangerous to kiss a blonde than a brunet?"

"We'll see," the legal sharp said, dragging down an armful of law books.

He found that out of the latest 19 books of promise cases, 16 were filed by brunets (safe kissing 'em, eh doc?), and that in 12 divorce suits nine brunet co-respondents were mentioned against three blondes.

The same question was put to the marriage license clerk.

"More brunet couples are married than blondes," he said.

Which proves that there's greater danger of falling into the matrimonial trap by kissing a brunet than a blonde, doesn't it?

Doctor, where do you get that stuff about it's being safe to kiss brunets? Statistics are ag'in you, doc.

Costa Rica.

Costa Rica is the most southerly of the Central American republics, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean, with Cocos Island as its outlying possession. It lies between Nicaragua and Panama. A considerable area of the country is high tableland with a temperate climate, but the land along the coast is low, with tropical vegetation and a strictly tropical climate.

Words Most in Use.

It is declared by a philologist that nine words do one-fourth of the verbal work, and 34 words one-half. The nine most useful words are: And, be, have, it, of, the, to, will, you. The 34 more that, with these nine, do half our literary work are: About, all, as, at, but, can, come, day, dear, for, get, go, hear, her, if, in, me, much, not, no, on, one, say, she, so, that, there, they, this, though, time, we, with, write, your.

SAVE MONEY ON SHOES FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

From Foochow, China, comes this letter from R. E. Gardiner, Foochow College: "Neolin Soles have solved the shoe problem for me. Other soles wore out quickly on the rocky roads here, and I had no end of trouble with them," he writes.

Where other soles fail, Neolin Soles always stand the test of hard wear and rough usage. This fact points the way to economy. Buy Neolin-soled shoes for the whole family, and to save shoe money. And have Neolin Soles put on your old shoes, too.

These durable, flexible, and waterproof soles are scientifically made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, put upon a stove and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF ACHING JOINTS

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Liniment.

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Liniment" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia. Limber up! Get a 30 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Liniment" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

SEVERAL CHANGES IN BASKETBALL AND FOOTBALL RULES FAVORED

Several contemplated changes in the rules of both football and basketball were the outgrowth of a meeting of the "Big Ten" football coaches in Chicago recently.

The decision of these old heads at the college games carried much weight with the national rules committee of these games, it is said, and it is likely that the changes suggested at the meeting will be incorporated in the new rule books issued next season. The result of the meeting is given in the following story:

Following the meeting of "Big Ten" football coaches in Chicago Saturday to select officials for the fall games the members decided to instruct field judges, who kept time in all games where there are four officials, to take out time for penalties following incomplete forward passes.

There is nothing in the rules to show that time shall be taken out during the enforcement of these penalties and the officials who handle the watch seldom take out time. The coaches maintain that in close games, where the forward pass is employed liberally, too much time is consumed for the enforcement of the penalty. As the ball is not actually in play during this enforcement, time should be taken out.

Coach Zuppke of Illinois favors a change in the rules to do away with games being won on recovered fumbles. The Illinois mentor claims that too many "loafers" break into the limelight by scooping up fumbles and converting them into touchdowns. Zuppke is in favor of the ball going to the side whose player recovers it on the spot with no run allowed.

Every coach is continually urging his players to hold or squeeze the ball, but the oval will get loose at times. Zuppke said Yost of Michigan is in favor of his idea and has written the rules committee about it.

As basketball is becoming more popular as a winter sport, those interested are trying to make it faster by devising some means by which the ball will be played continually. When fouls are called, 20 or 30 seconds elapse before the ball is put in play again.

Frank Birch, the basket ball official, has come forward with a good suggestion, which is worthy of consideration. Instead of permitting throws for the baskets after fouls, the fouled team shall be given one point and the ball put in play by tossing it in the air at the spot of the foul.—State Journal.

The Sunflower.

In olden times the name for the sunflower was solsele the sun-follower. The ancient sunflower, or sun-follower, was the marigold; the plants of the present day are of American origin. It sometimes attains a height of 20 feet. It was introduced into Europe in the middle of the sixteenth century.

GIRLS! MAKE A BEAUTY LOTION WITH LEMONS

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is truly marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands. adv

FIFTY MILLION GALLONS OF OLD BOOSE IN BOND

Washington, March 28.—National prohibition next July 1, will find only about 50,000,000 gallons of liquor in bonded warehouses, barred from disposition for beverage purposes, if the present demand for whiskey continues during the intervening months. Officials who have observed the effect of high taxes in the past believe, however, that withdrawals from bond will decrease under the new revenue law, and that between 60,000,000 and 75,000,000 gallons will be left in warehouses July 1.

It is conceded that it is impossible to foresee the effect of approaching prohibition on the demand for liquor to be stored by consumers, and officials say a big movement of buying even under the increased tax, may develop and leave the quantity of liquor left in bond smaller than the advance estimates.

The estimates do not take into consideration liquor which may be stored in cellars or attics of prospective consumers. Nor do they include any stocks which wholesale or retail dealers may not sell before the prohibition wave catches them. These are not measurable by any official reports.

Revenue bureau officials calculate that at present bonded warehouses connected with distilleries, but under lock and key of government agents, hold less than 90,000,000 of the 200,000,000 gallons in stock when manufacturers ceased September 9, 1917, under the food conservative act. Withdrawals in January and February have been less than the 10,000,000 or more gallons in December, according to indications based on preliminary reports from revenue agents.

On January 1st, 112,000,000 gallons of distilled spirits were reported in bond, including 6,000,000 gallons not available for beverage purposes. About 15 per cent of these figures must be deducted as allowances for leakage and evaporation from barrels. On December 1, the latest date for which itemized figures are available, the stock of distilled spirits in bond was distributed as follows:

Whiskey, 108,846,000 gallons; rum, 766,000; gin, 2,338,000; alcohol, 5,760,000; refined alcohol or "high wines," 3,744,000, and brandy, 2,316,000.

The normal rate of demand, measured by withdrawal from bond had been between 4,500,000 and 6,000,000 gallons a month until last October, when withdrawals jumped to 8,358,000. In November they were 9,597,000, and in December it is estimated they ran over 10,000,000 gallons, while in January and February, indications are that the demand probably was nearer 9,000,000 gallons. Most of this liquor was taxed when taken out of the bonded warehouses at the rate of $3.29 a gallon. Under the new revenue act, the rate is doubled amounting to $6.40. Consequently, the increase amounts to $3.20 a gallon, or 80 cents a quart, and the aggregate tax per quart is $1.60.

By terms of the pending bill providing for enforcement of prohibition under the constitutional amendment effective next January 16, the president would be empowered to appropriate for government purposes the stock of liquor left unused in warehouses. The price to be paid for this would be determined by agreement, or by a special commission.

BEGINNING OF THE GREAT CITY OF SAN FRANCISCO

The first settlement on the site of San Francisco was a mission established in 1776 by Francisco Palon and Benito Cambon, two friars, and known as the Mission Dolores.

Gradually a village grew up about the mission and the little community of pioneers was known as Yerba Buena until, seventy-two years ago, the Alcade officially changed the name to San Francisco.

During that year the first school was opened, the first hotel was built and a survey of the town was made by Jasper O'Farrell. Two years after the birth of San Francisco the rush of '49 increased its population ten-fold.

The first steamship of the Pacific Mail arrived in 1849, and in the same year the Oregon brought the first United States mail and the first postmaster, John W. Geary. The first steamship between San Francisco and Sacramento began plying that year, and the city had its first great fire. Geary, the first postmaster, became the first mayor, following the incorporation of the city in 1850.

The first of the famous Vigilance Committees began its work in 1854. The first panic afflicted the city in 1855. The year 1860 was a notable one for the Golden Gate City, for in that year the first pony express arrived, nine days from St. Joseph, Mo., and the city was connected with New York by telegraph.

EXPERT CRAP SHOOTER GETS ALL THE COIN

A certain lieutenant in a colored regiment on the western front tells of a famous crap player who, the next day after pay day is found in possession of all the pay of the other colored men.

Not long ago another colored regiment was moved up alongside, and it became the duty of the first named regiment to get the pay of the new comers. So it was arranged that the next time pay day came around the first regiment would forego crap, pool all their pay and send the champion over among the new soldiers. Pay day came around and the crap expert was sent to interview the visitors, loaded down with the pay of the entire regiment. Upon his return he had all he started out with, and, in addition, four thousand francs that he had got off the other regiment.

This champion is described as a very black-man of very large size, and it is reported that his abilities are not confined to the fetching game of craps. When in need of chickens and eggs the captain of his company addresses him after this fashion: "Jim," for his name is Jim, "we need some chickens and eggs. We don't particularly care where they come from, and no questions will be asked." Jim departs, and upon his return the company eats chickens and eggs.—Exchange.

The Musk Rat.

The musk rat, as its name would indicate, is a species of rat. It is found nowhere but in America. Its body is shaped like that of the ordinary rat, but instead of the short, close hair of the land species, it is covered by a thick reddish-brown fur, and because it lives much in the water it has webbed toes. Although very awkward on land, it is lively and playful in water, and is a great swimmer and diver.

TWO HUNDRED MILLION POUNDS OF BINDER TWINE USED IN U. S. A.

The American farmers use 200,000,000 pounds of binder twine a year, while an additional 100,000,000 pounds is necessary for the other grain-growing countries.

Eighty per cent of the henequen used in the manufacture of twine comes from Yucatan, and most of the sisal used in making twine is imported from foreign countries.

For the protection of American farming interests the United Department of Agriculture is promoting the growing of sisal and henequen in the Philippine Islands, Hawaiian Islands, Porto Rico and Florida, in order that Uncle Sam's future supply of binder twine may be a "Made in America" product.

Secret of Happiness.

The happiness of life is made up of minute fractions—the little charities, a kiss, a smile, a kind look or word, a heartfelt compliment in the disguise of a joke, and the countless other essentials to peace of mind which are few, simple and always close at hand. If we would cultivate the habit of making a note of these things, we would get more pleasure out of the common experiences of everyday life and should soon master the secret of happiness.

FREED FROM JAIL, WOULD TAKE SEAT IN BRITISH HOUSE

Countess Georgiana Markievicz.

Countess Georgiana Markievicz, the Sinn Fein leader who was serving a term in jail when she was nominated and elected to parliament, has been released and is considering taking her seat. If she does she will be the first woman to sit in the British parliament. The countess, who is Irish-born but wedded to a Polish nobleman, was imprisoned during a Sinn Fein rebellion.

Inkless Pen.

To make a pen that will write without ink, get a small quantity of violet aniline from a drug store, and some gum arabic. Dissolve a little of the gum in warm water, and mix with the violet aniline until a paste is formed. Apply it to the inside hollow of a new pen nib, just above the split. To write with the inkless pen it is only necessary to dip it in water. Shake away the drops, but do not wipe the pen. After a few moments it will be possible to write quite well.

THE HOME COM- FORTABLE

Preventive methods are the best to use in the care of silver, brass, nickel, copper and plated ware. Constant rubbing and polishing and the use of cleaning agents wear the surface of all metals, especially of those that are plated. So it is better to do so than to be forced to make them bright.

A lacquered surface needs little attention. It should be wiped with a damp cloth and then polished with a chamois. No metal should be polished until after it has been cleaned. Hot water and a little baking soda cut all of the grease on the surface which even hot soap suds will not touch.

A hot solution of salt and vinegar brightens copper, brass and tinware. The acid of the vinegar cleans the metal quickly but it must be well washed after it is used or else the metal will tarnish again quickly. A little oil rubbed on the metal after it is washed neutralizes any acid that may remain and so prevents its tarnishing.

If there are badly tarnished spots on brass or copper, wash them first, then dip a cloth in vinegar and salt mixed to a thick paste, rub the spots vigorously until they disappear, then wash again thoroughly and then rub with the oil. Whiting neutralizes the acid as well as oil does, and it is sometimes more convenient and just now with the price of oil as high as it is as well to use.

DRESS WARM AND KEEP FEET DRY

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. If damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

ALFRED ANKENY TELLS INTERESTING STORY OF WONDERFUL TRIP THROUGH MANCHURIA ON THE WAY TO SIBERIA

The following very interesting letter has just been received by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ankeny from their son Alfred:

Somehow in Manchuria, on the China Eastern Railway, enroute to Omsk, Siberia, Jan. 28, 1919.

Here we are bouncing along in a big American box car. We have two public-deck bunks fixed up in one end, and a little stove, which at this date is just cooking the grease out of us. I guess it is not many degrees below zero just now, probably lower than 30, so we are comfortable. The car is celled inside, and we have a couple double windows on each side, so we will be able to keep the cold out pretty well.

I have a little Corona typewriter on my cot and I am sitting on my left side and I am just over the front of the car, so you can imagine that it is not at all difficult to strike the wrong letters. My bunk mates are the Russian interpreter, who is a Lithuanian. I think, a Japanese Y. secretary, with his Armenian elper, on the way to China to do work especially for Russian prisoners returning from Austria and Germany. In another car are three American secretaries and another Lithuanian elper. One of the American secretaries is a native of Bohemia. He does our cooking. Then we have five Czech soldiers for our guards. They sit with us and are bright looking young fellows. We feel perfectly safe in their hands.

Two of us left Vladivostok on the evening of the seventh, but were unable to go on with the Red Cross train in which we were riding, so were held up at Harbin until the morning of the 2nd, when we pulled out on this special Y. M. C. A. freight train. It is cold now that the windows are frost-covered so that we cannot see much of the scenery. But for these two days we have been riding mostly over a vast plain. About noon today the monotony was broken by a few hills along the line. We also got to see and meet interesting trains, such as Seminary, which we met this morning. He had an armored train preceding him and one following him. We also crossed one bridge which had been protected by trenches and barbed wire entanglements. No telling what we will see before we reach our destination. It seems sort of like a dream to be going right out to the front where the fighting is still going on. It is cold out there, too. It is 40 below zero while we were at Harbin and that is only a taste of what is coming.

I had to give up writing while the train was running. We have been at this station for a couple hours and no engine to take the place of the other, as yet, so do not know how long we will be here. We went to all on one of the American railway engineers, and found him at supper, all alone in a house, with a Chinese cook. His partners, two of them, had gone to Harbin, to get their new uniforms. Last night about this time we were stopping at a place where there was only one American engineer located. His partner was away, too. These fellows have a lonesome time, and are glad to have anyone drop in on them. These American railway men have good eats. I have been taking my meals with them for two weeks and say, how I did eat. When we find any of these men along the line we give them a few magazines and some cigarettes. They do not have much to do with the operation of the lines, but they have the use of the wires, so that most of the men are telegraphers. They talk with each other, and pass the news along. They send lots of news through, too, and at important points where there are Americans, they make typewritten copies of the bulletins. That is the way we have gotten our news since coming over. We do not have to be so very far behind on the main happenings of the day.

I should like to tell you something about the people of Siberia, but it is hard for me to make up my mind about them. They are not Americans, that much is sure. I fear that I have seen more of the weaker element among them than the stronger. Those who have lived here, as I have in Japan, and have settled down to working slowly, have many words of praise for the people. But they do seem so backboneless to me. The intonation and inflections which they use in speaking seem to lack the positive strength and virility of our own language. They have us beaten at being courteous, at least in the matter of greetings and farewells. They do a lot more handshaking and kissing the hand than we do. The handshaking was probably more noticeable to me because of being away from it for so long in Japan.

I find that my first impressions have grown stale, but I will try to recall a few. One thing that struck me was the host of beggars along streets of Vladivostok and who came into restaurants and tried to hold you up everywhere. I was told that it was largely because of the religious customs. A few kopeks to a beggar secures forgiveness for many and grievous sins. Now do not take that as final, but there is some truth in it. One is almost bewildered when he first lands in Vladivostok. There are soldiers of many nations. Chinese with long queues and fine clothes, and Chinese with long queues and the dirtiest, grasiest clothes you ever saw.

There are the Koreans with their queer clothes and funny little hats, which Happy Hooligan would be tempted to steal. With all these various people flocking up and down the streets you get another set of wheels going in your head when the autos go flying by at from forty to sixty miles per hour. Do they hit folks? Well, yes, and it is usually a Chinaman who gets it. A Red Cross ambulance hit one one day just before I happened along. I saw the pool of blood after the victim had been removed. The drivers of Y. cars had orders to be more careful, and I think it had a good effect on all. It seemed to be mostly American army and Red Cross cars which were hitting folks. The streets were always full of one horse wagons driven by the dirty Chinese coolies and with the burly looking Russians and Chinese. Russian carriages, driven both by big

On the sidewalk was a grand mixture of American, British, Canadian, Russian, Chinese, Japanese, French, and Czech-Slovak soldiers. They formed the larger part of the sidewalk procession. Mixed among them were Jews, Armenians and Russian business folk in citizens' clothes, Chinese coolies, the dirtiest people I ever saw, with their carrying frame loaded or empty on their backs and women in all kinds of Parisian gowns and hats and boots, some neatly and others sloppily done. Some of the women were also alone or with other women and many were arm-in-arm and hand-in-hand with soldier boys, usually with their own kind, but occasionally, more often at night, they had kidnapped some of our lads. What a contrast to Japan. Men and women do not object to being seen together in this country. As cold weather came on, the furs came out in full bloom. Some of you ladies would be green with envy at the furs.

Another common sight is the highly respectable creature, more familiarly known as the hog. You see large families lazily ambling around in most any part of the city. One day I met 2 women with a rope tied around just behind the fore legs of an old sow, driving her along, headed for the heart of the city, and they were already just entering the main business section of the city.

I remember my first call at Y. M. C. A. headquarters in Vladivostok. While waiting for an interview with the national secretary, I watched a woman herding two or three pigs on the opposite side of the street, next door to the main telegraph office. I was going to say at first that they usually appeared in the residence districts, but you hardly know where the residence districts begin. Someone who had just arrived at V. asked where the residence section was. The Y. man replied, "Upstairs." Almost every office and business building has people living either upstairs or in the cellar.

One of the greatest treats I have had has been the music. The Czechs are splendid musicians and their Fifth Regiment band and orchestra were in Vladivostok for a good long time and played for us at the Y. hut and gave benefit concerts other places. They also had a good male quartet with them and a violinist who was a wonder. We had a treat a couple weeks ago, when the British flag ship, Suffolk, gave a farewell party at the hut. They arranged a concert putting the Suffolk orchestra, the old reliable, such as "William Brooklyn orchestra all together. They played under the direction of each leader in turn. They stuck to the old reliable, such as "William Tell," "Poet and Peasant," and "Aida," but it was a treat. There were about 70 men in the combined group. The Brooklyn orchestra is composed entirely of Filipinos and they deliver the goods, too.

Our hut in V. is divided into two large rooms, one an auditorium and gymnasium and the other a lounge hall. Down stairs is the canteen, information desk, billiard tables, fireplace and piano. Upstairs which is really only a balcony, are the tea service writing tables, and moving picture machine booth. This is arranged so that pictures can be thrown either into the hut or into the auditorium.

The women take charge of the tea service. I believe it is a safe bet that lots of men filed past that tea counter just to have the women wait on them and talk to them, not because they were hungry for tea and cakes. I have heard it over and over from the boys that these women were the only American women they had talked with for a long time and it sure did them a lot of good. The two ladies in charge are wives of Y. secretaries, but other women living in the city help regularly. The American consul's wife is one of them. The Red Cross girls get in once in a while to help, but they are usually too busy.

It was my job to keep the canteen and tea counter supplied and take care of the receipts. In addition to that I had the money exchange. That will be the one story I will tell my children and grandchildren whenever the great world war is being talked about.

With the speculators and business operations both between America and Russia, the value of the Russian money fluctuated like the weather at Karuzawa. And there are all kinds of stuff floating around which passes for money, but which would be absolutely worthless if the government took a notion to clean them out. There are government bonds with interest coupons attached. These coupons are clipped and circulated as money. The bonds with coupons attached are also circulated. The large stores and restaurants give their own "I. O. U." chits, which are good in a limited number of places. Then there is a great deal of counterfeiting, especially of the Kerensky money. None of the paper is as tough and durable as our money, and it gets into a horrible mess. Over and over a man would come to the canteen, buy something, and would pull out of his pocket a whole handful of all kinds of money, which he had received from some money changer, and with a more or less mild oath would tell me to take out what was coming to me. He was sure to be a new man and that first mess made him look helpless. You could tell a new man that way every time. If it were not such dirty, filthy looking stuff, I would like to bring home some souvenirs. At the end of two or three hours of changing money, my hands would be as black as coal. I get kind of homesick, to be back there on the job, and have the fellows greet me with, "Well, what's the rubles worth today?" or "What chu payin' today?" However the boys did not waste much love on the money changer. The fact that one had to deal in the stuff, which they hated, was enough to prejudice them against you. How often they say about the old U. S. A. money, "That's real honest to goodness money," and "That's God's money."

But that was "back in Vladivostok." I am now on my way west. I may reach the Ural mountains before winter is over. Omsk is the center of our work in Western Siberia. We will at least reach there and may be sent on further. "Any old where the gang goes, I'll be there!"

It is 11 o'clock and I think I'll turn in. Do not know how soon we will leave this burg, but hope we will be on our way pretty soon. It will probably take us more than two weeks to complete our trip. I hope I will not be too busy to tell you all about it when we arrive at our destination. We were told when we left Vladivostok that we need not expect to return before summer, so I do not know when we will get back. There is much more work out here than there are men, so wherever I am there will be loads to do. The crisis is not yet reached, I believe, and there is no telling what will turn up. It looks as if the railway will be managed by the American corps and that ought to relieve conditions a great deal. We see stacks of bags of wheat and beans along the line, with no cars to move them. It is a wonder that any trains run, but they do.

Good-bye for this time. More some other day.

Cordially yours
ALFRED.
P. S.—We did not leave until 9 A. M. this morning, so had a good, quiet sleep last night. Had to eat breakfast on the move. It is great sport calculating on the probability of getting a spoonful of oatmeal into your mouth. It is almost like trying to eat on a hay wagon. But we are having a good time. Just now we are losing some more time. We run only about one-third of the time. But we will arrive some day. Safford, Mitchell, Filipi and I are the Americans. Think I will go up ahead for lunch before the train begins to move again.
Love to all.

ALFRED.

HORSE RAISING BUSINESS LOOKS VERY PROMISING

From all the available information it seems that the outlook for the horse business was never better. The government has bought a great number of horses, and shippers have scoured the country for five years buying horses for the allies. To be sure, horses have not been selling for what they should in this country during the last winter. However, the prevailing feeling is that the man who gets started in the business now, will in a few years have a nice little fortune if he breeds consistently and carefully.

The writer was told by Marion Bidwell, Thursday, that in 1892, he sold two draft horses for $100 each, one to Henry Wilson and one to Henry Johnson. These horses were used continually for sixteen years, and then sold for $185 each. In 1893 Mr. Bidwell bought five mares, from 2 to 5 years old of D. R. Lucas, for $169, or only $2 less than $40 per head. In five years these same mares were sold for $225 each. The same kind of mares would bring $250 today. Surely, this goes to show that the market on horses should be good. Breeders should consider this and lay the foundation for a lucrative horse business by breeding every good draft mare possible to only the best stallions, and thereby getting good colts. They will find it will bring big returns in a very few years.—Madison County Democrat.

How to Attain Old Age.
Sir George Reid's golden rule for the attainment of old age is worth a place in the Office Window as a corrective to all war valetudinarians: "I have aimed at health and happiness, and when confronted by a formidable obstacle I have first tried to knock it over; failing this, to get round it; if not, then under it; and if all these maneuvers failed I have been content to lie down in its grateful shade, lauding it as a beautiful blessing in disguise."—London Chronicle.

SELLS SAME CUSTOMER FOR EIGHTY-FIVE YEARS

When E. M. Thirkield of Franklin, near Dayton, told the Ohio Retail Dry Goods Convention at the Southern Hotel in Columbus recently that he had the oldest customer in America on his books, he was asked for particulars.

He said the E. B. Thirkield & Sons Company has its original ledger, showing that James McLean purchased a bill of goods from them March 10, 1834, 85 years ago, and that he still is a regular customer, although over 104 years old.

This store, located in a village of 3,000, did a business of over $180,000 in 1918.—Exchange.
